That Great Day of Registration

David Byrd comes back to E.C.B.C. with a big grin.

Teodora Doneva waits patiently and is very tired.

East Coast Bible College starts off with a great shout of joy to God because this is its 20th anniversary of instruction. We have students from as far north as Alaska, as far south as Florida, and even out of country such as Bulgaria. Students are hungry to prepare for God's calling in their lives.

Now don't these new freshmen look like happy campers ready to get into gear and dig in God's Word!

Faye Taylor is hard at work trying to get freshmen lined up for pictures for yearbook.

Neil Martin is just thrilled to come back to East Coast Bible College.

The famous E.C.B.C. Top 10 list maker Bill Coble is back in town for another year of fun and excitement along with studying.

Linda Allen is hard at work trying to figure out the new system at a busy time.

East Coast Memory Page

East Coast Bible College has hit its 20th anniversary. From planning and building to remodeling the dormitories and other buildings, the college has gone through many changes. What now are Paulk Womens' Dorm, the Student Union Center and the old Autman Dorm were once all men's dorms for campmeeting time. The current Byrd Dorm and "work-out" building were the girls' dorms. The chapel today was once the library and what is now the library was once a banquet hall. The college has gone through many improvements through the years.

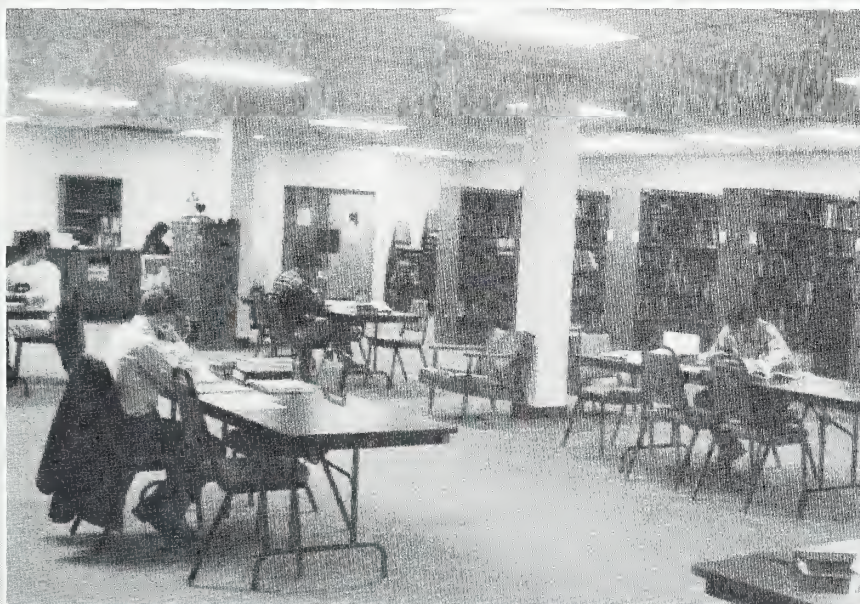

East Coast looked different during its first few stages of construction back in 1975. (top picture)

Byrd Dorm was undergoing a major remodeling period when it became a part of the college. Byrd Dorm is older than the college. (left)

Campus Day Weekend

Campus Day Weekend of 1995 was a booming success. Even students who came to visit from Lee College were impressed with what they saw. We had entertainment performed in many ways, from mime and drama to singing by the students of East Coast. Teens from all over came to check out the college. Our special guest this year was Karen Wheaton who sang for the glory of God here at the college. This year the college tried something different. We had a night of fun and adventure with all kinds of activities and free food for everyone. This was big talk for those to take back to their home churches.

Jeremy Mew shares with a visitor some humorous tales about Byrd Dorm.

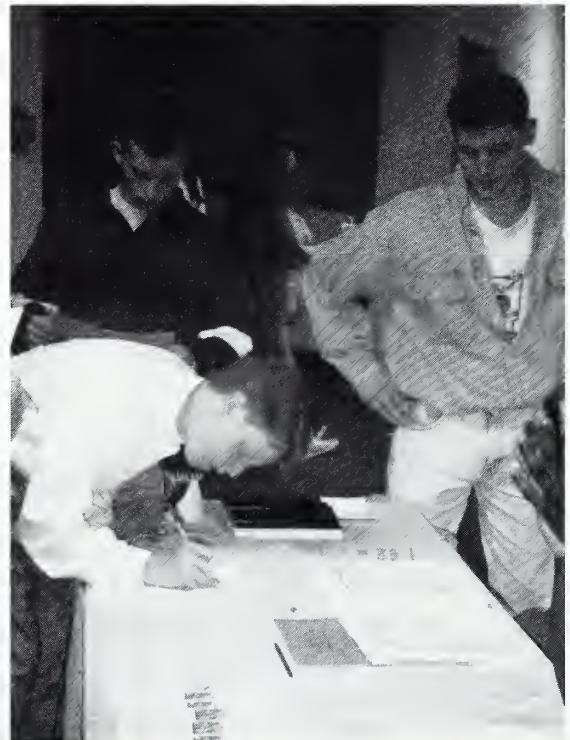

Sister Galloway has gotten all stressed out over nothing. Still adjusting to East Coast life.

Shave & TELL

Bill Coble and Sister Miles give a good smiling E.C.B.C. welcome to our visitors.

Spiritual Renewal

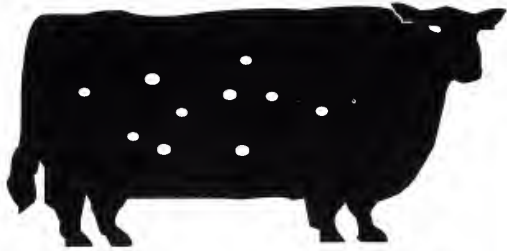

In late September, just before fall break, the students were spiritually refreshed during a four day revival with Reverend Y.Z. Isaacs and Reverend Bobby Gilley. Stress was lifted, needs were met, prayers were answered. We serve a mighty God.

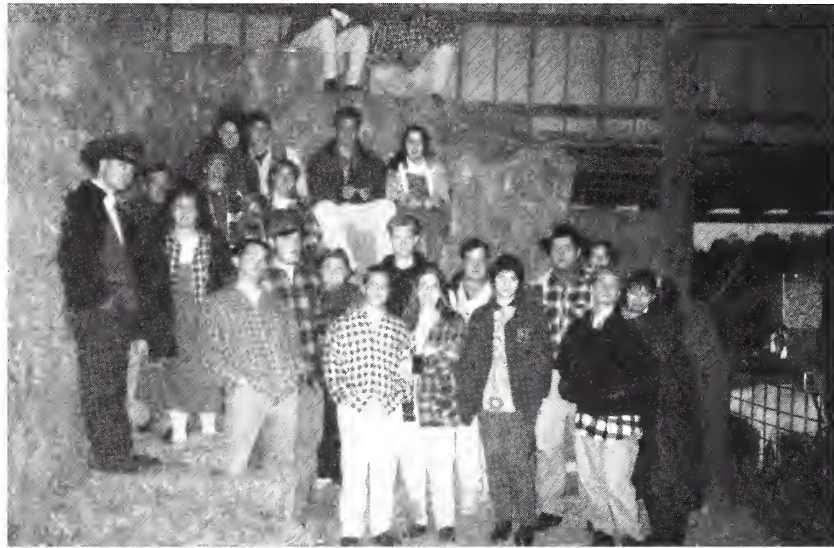

Emilie Hipp got into worship unto the Lord her God with that annointed violin of hers. (above)

The East Coast Chorale sang a couple of songs for the Lord during a time of worship just before the message was preached. (left)

Sadie Hawkins of 1995 was held in November. This was a night for the students to just let their hair down and go western. Some went western style all the way and others looked more like the people from Green Acres. There was live music, student tractor drivers, and those city folks enjoying farm life for the first time in their life. This special night was a time to get away from school work, dorm life and best of all, cafeteria food.

During that good old season of basketball it seems like being back in high school all over again. The only difference is the maturity of the ball players and the crowd (I think). Everyone cheers on the team and yells at them when they miss a score, but hey, it's part of all the fun.

A long, long time ago, when the population of cave people died off, some of our present staff members at East Coast were already here. Some were even students at one point and love it so much they just can't leave, while others left as graduates and came back as faculty. Some have changed a lot but others may never change, period.

Doing puppet shows in the bathroom.

Practice airplane flying

Devotions on Monday & Wednesday nights.

Pick on Bill Coble every night.

What guys do after hours...

Others just sit around and stare at nothing but the ugly walls in Byrd Dorm.

The guys really do study for Voorhis tests.... late at night that is.

For the past two years, right when the dorms open and placement tests are to begin for spring semester, we have either a snow storm or an ice storm. This makes the third year in a row, but this year it was a combination of both. The storm put the spring semester three days behind schedule this year. Students who had arrived before the storm hit seemed to enjoy the snow. Some even went sledding for the first time in their life while others just stood in awe that it really does snow in the Carolinas beyond the mountains.

Colleges

Brother Ron Martin was the speaker for the Sunday morning service.

Youth Worship team from Central Church of God led the music.

Jill Kester ministered through special singing Sunday.

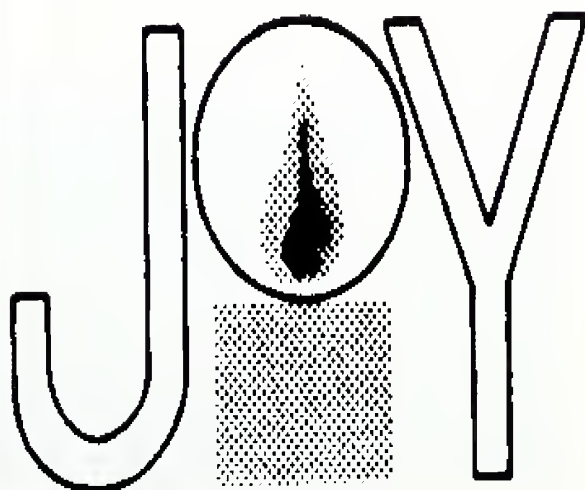

Senior Banquet

A view from the balcony of worship Sunday morning.

Another view of students in time of worship.

S E N I O R U P P E R L A T I V E S

A beautiful view of God's creation from the Crest.

Jill Kester and Yves Bazil dine together for the last time.

Lisa Sizemore's daughter, Gloria, keeps brother Gwaltney busy.

Renee Witherspoon,

To my dearest Renee: Thank you for all of your love and support during this year. I love you very much.

Stephen Price

Chelle,

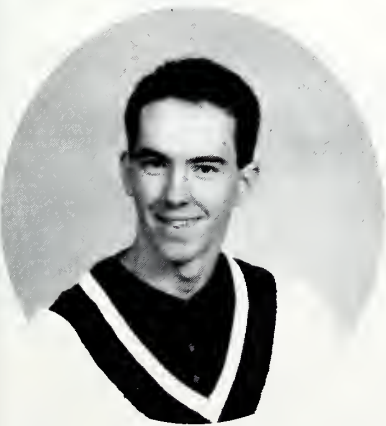

I love you so much baby and I'm very proud of you.
I'm anxious to see all the wonderful things Jesus will do through us.

Shawn

Miranda,

I left Georgia, met you in New Mexico. We married in Texas and settled in North Carolina. Only God knows where we're going from here but what a ride it's going to be.

Jeff Weaver

Tony,

We are all proud of you and we hope you accomplish all your goals.

Love,
